THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY VOTE.

Hard Fought Battle For Nominations Waged Yesterday.

THE RESULT YET IN DOUBT

A Very Heavy Vote Pooled—The Count Progresses Slowly and Will Not Be Completed Until After the Morning Papers are Issued from the Press—A Close Vote for Mayor—What the Count Indicates at 2:30 O'clock This Morning—Claims Advanced.

Yesterday opened clear and bright in Norfolk, and the rising sun found most, if not all, of the candidates and many of their friends on the streets prepared to engage in the battle of ballots. Yesterday was the "first day" of the primary, held to nominate Democratic candidates for the offices to be filled at the May election, and each candidate and his friends and supporters appreciated the importance of winning out, if possible, the first day. Every effort was made to get voters to the polls, and some men who will probably walk the remainder of the year were given free hack or street car rides. Cigars and liquid refreshments were likewise plentiful, but to the credit of Norfolk it is said that very few intoxicated men were seen during the day. There were several disturbances, but none of a serious nature.

The contest for nominations were vigorous, and no sign of a truce was seen during the entire day. There was very little leading of votes between the candidates, all of whom were in the field to win, if possible, and their supporters seemed imbued with the same spirit. As a rule the contest was in the main, waged on friendly lines. Bickering and quarreling were comparatively rare. The partisans of Johnston, and Riddick for Mayor, Trehy and Royster for Clerk, and other opponents elbowed each other good-naturedly. An outburst of temper was a rare occurrence, and blows, which had been freely predicted, were conspicuous by their absence, except in the Fourth ward, where there was two disturbances, which will, it is said, be ventilated in the Police Court to-day.

A LARGE VOTE.

The general interest taken in the primary is evidenced by the vote polled. The ward totals are as follows:

| | |
|------------------------------------|-------|
| First ward | 1,112 |
| Second ward | 802 |
| Third ward | 1,147 |
| Fourth ward | 404 |
| Fifth ward (first precinct) | 755 |
| Fifth ward (second precinct) | 793 |
| Sixth ward | 701 |

Grand total

Counting the vote is a tedious and tiresome job, and although the judges and clerks entered upon the work immediately after the polls were closed last night, it will not likely be finished in every ward until this forenoon.

A VEST POCKET VOTE.

The "vest pocket vote" was a factor in the voting yesterday and, therefore, it was difficult to forecast the result with any degree of accuracy. The assertions made were colored largely by the preference of the men who made them. For instance, a Riddick man would predict with apparent confidence that his favorite had carried the city by a decided majority, on the one hand, and on the other some friend of Mayor Johnston would smash the slate. Everybody was at sea with hope as his anchor.

FEW CHALLENGES.

On the whole, there were comparatively few challenges of voters, considering the heat of the fight. At about all the voting places there were challenges on the ground of the politics of voters. In every case, however, so far as is known, the voter challenged on this ground was allowed to vote upon his declaration that he was a Democrat and would support the primary nominees. Some voters were turned down for alleged attempts to vote under wrong names, and in one of the Brambleton precincts about fifteen alleged repeaters in a gang were challenged and turned down.

In the Second ward probably the largest number of would-be voters were turned down by the judges on account of their names not being properly on the registration books, or not there at all.

MANY FAILED TO VOTE.

At the First Ward voting place, the John S. Barbour Clubhouse, there was during the afternoon a line of voters extending for nearly a block, and when the polls closed at sunset there was still a large number of voters who had not expressed their choice of candidates.

At many times there was danger of personal difficulties resulting from scrambling, and, in fact, one or two difficulties were started, but were checked with the assistance of policemen.

It was the general opinion that two voting places should have been provided for the ward. A number of voters gave up in disgust, finding that at the tail end of the line they stood little show of ever getting to the top. Part of the time it was like climbing up one rung of the ladder and going down two.

ASSAULTS.

The most serious breach of the peace during the voting hours took place early in the morning in the Fourth Ward. Mr. John Kelly, a member of the City Democratic Executive Committee, and one of the challengers appointed by the City League for Good Government, challenged an Italian whom he charged with attempting to vote under the name of a man out of the city. There was a large crowd around the polls, and a dispute quickly arose, and Mr. Kelly was knocked down, being roughly handled. It is said by more than one bystander. About three hours after the occurrence several leaders of the City League for Good Government had used the following circular, which was freely distributed:

"A Dastardly Act.—This morning, soon after the polls in the Fourth Ward were opened, Mr. John Kelly, who, in the interest of a fair election, challenged a voter, was at once assaulted brutally, policemen in uniform taking him with their fists and kicking him after he had been knocked to the ground. Will the good citizens of Norfolk allow such an attack upon free institutions?"

"(Signed)
"CITY LEAGUE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT."
It was understood last night that Mr. Kelly had, or would, swear out warrants against N. B. Joyner and Policeman Ellis. The matter will be brought up in the Police Court this morning probably.

Mr. Morris Cannon, who was working with Mr. Kelly, was also bruised up in the fight. The affair was one of the principal topics of conversation among the voters and those gathered around the voting places during the day.

A HEAVY VOTE.

Yesterday's vote was a record breaker so far as Democratic primaries in this city are concerned. Still, some predicted that the total would reach 6,000, and on the whole the 5,514 total was not a surprise. Two years ago the vote in the primary for municipal offices was between 4,200 and 4,300.

The above may not be correct, as the conclusions are based upon estimates received from the precinct counts, and the count as far as it had proceeded. Mayor Johnston carried the Second ward by 134 majority. He was running about even in the First ward. He carried the Atlantic City ward by an estimated majority of 200 to 250, and the indications are that he carried the Fourth by 300.

Dr. Riddick's friends claim that he will carry Brambleton by at least 500 majority, but his opponents do not concede this, while crediting him with the ward. At 2:30 o'clock he had 102 majority in the second precinct.

The vote for Mayor is close, and both sides claim victory. Mr. Johnston's friends are confidently claiming his election by 200 majority.

SUMMARY.

The count had progressed far enough at 2:30 o'clock this morning to indicate with reasonable certainty, it was said at the polling places, the following nominations:

For Mayor—C. Brooks Johnston.
City Collector—William L. Baker.
City Treasurer—H. S. Herman.
Commissioner of Revenue—W. W. Day.
Commonwealth's Attorney—W. H. Venable.

The following are believed to be the candidates who will be in the second ward at the polling places, the following nominations:

City Sergeant—John F. Lawler and Wm. F. Allen.
Clerk of Courts—James V. Trehy and L. Royster.
